

Traffic Conflicts at Gate - The Shoppes - Ingress/Egress on A1A

To better visualize the traffic conflicts resulting from the two new turn lanes on southbound A1A, I drove by several times from both direction and took photos of A1A as well as the Shoppes' south ingress/egress point. I made a rough sketch and annotated what I saw to be the areas of traffic conflict. I also annotated five of the photos and combined them into a PDF. I've attached the two PDF files, maybe they will help someone else visualize the conflicting travel paths resulting from the two new turns added to southbound A1A.

If I were a Shoppes business I would be very concerned. If no changes are made there is going to be a ongoing goat rope in the vicinity of the crossover and I would not be surprised to see vehicle accidents in the areas of conflict when Gate opens.
